

Apply for the 2022 BMGA Fellows Program!

Applications are open for the third cohort of the BMGA Fellows Program.

Deadline: Thursday, 10 March 2022; 11:59 PM [WAT]

BMGA Foundation presents the 2022 BMGA Fellows Program. A social impact initiative designed to narrow the gender skills gap amongst recent university graduates in Africa and Asia. It is a six-month online transformative learning program designed to equip young women with the knowledge, access, and resources required to gain fundamental employability skills that strengthen their marketability for a successful career in the 21st Century.

This program offers high-level professional development courses, mentorship, and life skills designed to prepare young women for the future of work. Our Fellows are resident in over ten (10) countries across the world such as Nigeria, Ghana, Malawi, South Africa, Uganda, Zambia, the United States of America, Russia, Hungary, and South Korea

Furthermore, The Association of Commonwealth Universities \(ACU\) is an official partner for the BMGA Fellows Program and previous cohorts of the BMGA Fellows Program have been supported by Giants of Africa, African Society of Cambridge University (ASCU), University of Lagos, University of Ibadan, EI Skills Group, Story work International, Gallup, Imperial College Business School, University College London, Sterling Bank, Women at Risk International Foundation (WARIF), and Femme Minty, just to name a few.

Once selected, participants go through an intensive six month learning experience that utilizes modern technological tools and resources to aid transformational learning. The program consists of modules led by industry experts, professors, and thought leaders from top institutions across the world. With the use of live classes, group discussions, and other learning tools, participants can gain new insights into the skills required for the dynamic business environment.

Some of the benefits include mentorship pairings with graduate students top global universities such as the University of Cambridge and Imperial College, one-on-one career coaching from executives with international experience, fire-side conversations with world-class leaders as they share their blueprint to career success, and access to the invaluable Alumni Network with individuals in over ten (10) countries worldwide for further learning, networking, and lifetime support.

Eligibility

- Young women from Africa and Asia.
- Final year university students and early career professionals with not more than three (3) years of post-university work experience.
- Excellent academic record: Applicants must have graduated top of their class. Final year students must have a current CGPA equivalent to a B+ [UK grade point system].
- Applicants must speak, write, and read English with proficiency.
- Have regular access to the internet.

Application Timeline

Application opens: Thursday, 10 February 2022

Application deadline: Thursday, 10 March 2022.

Link to apply: www.bmgaenterprise.com/2022-bmga-fellows-program-application/

Learn more: www.bmgaenterprise.com/bmgafellowsprogram

Enquiries: info@bmgafoundation.org